

MASSACHUSETTS COALITION FOR JUVENILE JUSTICE REFORM

THE PROBLEM | Thousands of children and youth in Massachusetts come into contact with the juvenile justice system each year. Overwhelmingly, these are children from neighborhoods with high levels of poverty and they are, disproportionately, children of color and children from our child welfare systems. Many have experienced mental illness, learning disabilities, and/or school failure.

ISSUES | The Coalition focuses on many issues to improve the juvenile justice system. The coalition advocates for juvenile justice policies ranging from diverting youth with low level offenses from going deeper into the juvenile justice system to improving both public safety and better outcome for youth who do enter the system. These issues include:

- the unnecessary court processing of large numbers of kids for low-level offenses;
- the glaring racial disparities throughout the system;
- the overuse of out of home confinement and the lack of appropriate community-based services;
- removing barriers to successful re-entry; and
- the failure of many agencies to collect basic statistical data to enable the Commonwealth to assess the fairness and effectiveness of the system.

Building on successful passage of juvenile justice reforms in 2018, the coalition will be advocating for further reforms in the 2019-2020 legislative session that would improve access to expungement of certain juvenile records; extend developmentally appropriate justice reforms for transition age youth; and addressing racial and ethnic disparities by requiring greater transparency in the system. Join us and set the agenda for reform!

CfJJ | CfJJ is the convener of the Massachusetts Coalition for Juvenile Justice Reform. As the only independent, statewide organization working exclusively to improve the juvenile justice system in the Commonwealth, CfJJ advocates for smart policies that prevent crime, help youth develop into responsible citizens, and use scarce resources wisely through advocacy, research, and public education. Our advocacy platform is based on our research and policy recommendations published in our most recent research reports:
